

COMPANY PROFILE

Established in 2012, SILVER CHRIS COMPUTERS LIMITED (SCC) is a 100% Nigerian-owned and operated leading IT provider with an outstanding reputation for service, designed to meet or exceed our client's expectations even in the most complex provinces throughout Nigeria. We take pride of serving the Nigerian Ministry of Justice, SMEDAN, INEC, SON, various Private Agencies, NGOs and commercial, for-profit companies. We focus all efforts on consistently delivering quality and service which exceeds the toughest demands and scheduling challenges.

From the beginning, our company has provided direct benefit to our clients through competitive pricing, scalable capabilities, and building quality partnerships. SCC is committed to providing a source of economic progression for Nigeria by focusing on hiring, training, and development of our Nigerian workforce while embracing the Nigerian First principles. We are committed to equal opportunity and diversity, which is clearly visible in throughout our workforce today. Stitch is dedicated to building the necessary foundation for a sustainable future.

Through our widely recognizable strengths, SCC maintains the technical expertise, professionalism, and financial capacity to succeed on the largest and deemed most mission-critical requirements. In strict compliance with Nigerian Government, SCC maintains active licenses.

We fully intend on building our history of success so that SCC may be a catalyst to a sustainable economy in Nigeria for many decades to come.

STRATEGY

Silver-Chris Computers' profitable growth strategy is driven by a strong vision for sustainability combining the dimensions of people, planet and profit and aims to leverage the following 4 strategic axis:

- ❖ Seize growth potential on a global scale
- ❖ Expand through innovation
- ❖ Deliver further operational optimization
- ❖ Pursue external growth potential

Our Corporate Sustainability Strategy

For SCC, Corporate Sustainability is the backbone of our growth.

We believe that driving daily for sustainability in all we do is the best way to assure our stakeholders long-term growth and profit which respect, simultaneously, people as well as the planet. It is part of our responsibility, deeply instilled in our values and integrated within our vision.

With nine billion people projected to live on our planet in the year 2050, resource constraints, and customer aspirations for quality of life, healthy living and complete trust could limit business activities unless we pro-actively work to take the future into account. There really is no other choice than thinking differently.

Our corporate governance strategy supports the three pillars of sustainable development:

- Environmental Responsibility: Taking care of Our environment

By protecting the planet, SCC's sustainability drive recognizes that the transition from the 'linear economy' to the 'circular economy' is under way. The linear cycle of taking resources to produce, using products and throwing them away, is giving way to infinite or repeated re-use of resources from the beginning to the end of use of products.

- Social Responsibility: Putting People first

SCC can claim to best practice the principles of sustainability by putting people first, and starting with respect for its own employees as well as for the communities in which it operates. SCC's spirit of corporate social responsibility is reflected in four guiding principles:

- Safety, respect and integrity in relationships with people
- Encouraging talent development, empowerment and diversity
- Pro-active employee communication and dialogue
- Involvement with local communities

- Economic Responsibility: Profit needed for sustainable growth & investments

SCC's commitment to people and to the environment is fully embedded in our values, through which we recognize the important responsibility that we have as a company to take care of our environmental and social impacts. But, beyond being a business constraint, corporate sustainability at SCC is an opportunity to continuously improve our operations, and to develop our capacity to innovate and differentiate ourselves. We continue in our strong commitment to the Nigeria Nations Ethics, following its essential principles and working to promote this commitment with all our stakeholders. To achieve its objectives and monitor our progress, we formally structured our corporate sustainability strategy in 2012, making it a true management tool as well as an innovation driver to build SCC's future.

Our Performance

Where we push the limits to offer breakthrough products and process leadership for a competitive edge. Innovation in products and processes leads the industry. They provide SCC with competitive advantages in its operations and its customers with the next wave of IT and business solutions.
